After a short period of inactivity and with a big bunch of excellent reviews of their previous and acclaimed album, the spanish indie/hardcore scene "fab four" come back with a record where the hardcore inheritance finds the definitive comunion with Rock - in capitals. Because it's not only about indie rock, from Superchunk to Arcwelder, but about thick, mature rock, with that classical flavour that will make us think of Cheap Trick or AC/DC and also Rocket From The Crypt or Queens of The Stone Age. Of course, never forgetting the legacy of the Washington DC sound, from Bluetip to Jawbox, that has been one of their identity signs since their "adult" era. The recording has been done at Inner Ear Studios in Washington DC (Fugazi, Dag Nasty,...) by Jay Robbins (Jawbox/Burning Airlines), and followed by a succesful tour along the United States, with shows in New York, Chicago, Milwawkee, Kansas, Cincinatti, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington DC,...

An European tour in november and december with Shiner will bring them to France, Germany, Great Britain, Italia, Belgium, The Netherlands, Croatia, Czech Republic,...
