Without having the time to digest their astonishing debut, "Le Red Soul communittee (10 points programme), the crazy four from Vilanova close themselves into their red box and turn their amps up as never done before; a box which contains the best Tokyo songs up to date. A treasure trunk whith five gold songs that they had kept as an appendix for their debut, to give a grace shot to those who still haven't seen them in their unique live shows. We've sen them play with The Soledad Brothers, Jon Spencer Blues Explosion, Zen Guerrilla, The Mooney Sukuzi... and we can assure it's a real party. And beyond that, "The red box..." has damn good songs: the anthemic "Power to the people", the softer "Another day" or the instrumental hendrix-esque "Soul Music FM. 1977". As they preach, "soul music free for everybody!!".
