Puntos de interés:

-"J.Lion feels like Boards of Canada meets Holy Fuck, with the drumming holding genitals with the bass playing the protagonist. It's comforting, far off, soothing, tripped the Fuck out, enjoyable while naked (and/or sweaty and sticky), and it's fucking amazingly addicting." syffal.com

-"A formidable new force"

Jupiter Lion to release 'Brighter' the highly anticipated follow-up to 'Silver Mouth' this September.

Originating from the Mediterranean coast, the trio of Jupiter Lion appears to be an outlander in the city of Valencia. Washing ashore on a wave of ethereal melody and tidal drones, the band is a noticeably different presence from the dance floor fare that is omnipresent on the sandy beaches of Spain.

2013's 'Silver Mouth' (Bcore) was a hypnotic chronicle of kraut rock influences and experimental pop, and the upcoming 'Brighter' takes psychedelia into a realm of analog electronics that few bands could ever follow. But Jupiter is not about repeating themselves, which is why they bravely pilot a reinvented sound where jazz, techno, and post punk collide on a timeline still not requiring computer instrumentation.

On 'Brighter' Jupiter Lion's analog keyboards forsake presets, and defy convention with a zapping pulse or shimmering brilliance that makes other synth bands seem lazy for their impersonate sound. The elongated track length of the single, "Your God Is A Human" draws comparisons that bridge both past and future in an affect that is utterly phantasmagoric. Featuring a progression that is as musically adventurous as France's Magma in the 1970s, the single in addition presents an present-day aesthetic as updated as Portland's Copy.

After a brief hiatus, Jupiter returned this past summer to share the stage with Neutral Milk Hotel, and Godspeed You Black Emperor at Barcelona's Primavera Sound. Completed tour runs with Spectrum and Dead Skeletons are indicative of the band's cross-over potential, assuring their station in the pantheon of futurist rock where allies will be in great supply.

With the release of 'Brighter,' Jupiter Lion have taken a surreal trajectory of lucid synths, agile jazz rhythm and cinematic poise. Proving that when something is instantly destined to be a classic, it still has one foot firmly planted in the future.
